SDM's Dr. Lata Shenoy Receives Prestigious Award

Dr. Lata Shenoy poses with her Global Prosthodontic Award

Dr. Lata Shenoy, clinical associate professor, Department of Restorative Dentistry, was invited to be the keynote speaker for the "Golden Jubilee," 50th Annual Indian Prosthodontic Society Conference. The conference was held from November 10-13, 2022 in New Delhi.

At the conference, Dr. Shenoy received the prestigious "Global Prosthodontic Legend Award."

Dr. Shenoy describes that as an extremely humbling experience, particularly at this stage of her life. She originally graduated from India, and she states that this honor is even more special to her because her birth country was recognizing her achievements. She has completed 45 years of teaching at our School of Dental Medicine in the Department of Restorative Dentistry.

She was accompanied by Dr. V. I. Haraszthy, chair, Department of Restorative Dentistry and Dr. Ramtin Sadid-Zadeh, assistant dean for Digital Technology and associate professor, Department of Restorative Dentistry. Both were invited to present on this prestigious occasion. Dr. Haraszthy's presentation was on "Clinical Prospective of Periodontal and Restorative Interactions," and Dr. Sadid's presentation title was "Digital Workflow for Rehabilitation of Dental Patients - Approaches and Benefits."

Please join me in congratulating Dr. Shenoy for receiving lifetime achievement award.
